Voters ask for Toft's return!

BY GLORIA DAVIS

After many months of what was probably one of the most intense political campaigns waged in the village of Antioch in recent years, the signs that peppered the village have all come down, the politicking is over. The voters have chosen, and with 1,500 out of a possible 2,000 registered voters, having put their x where their choice was, Antioch has a new, old (no age pun intended) mayor, Ray Toft.

With probably the largest number of candidates in the village's history seeking the top office, Toft, who had already held that office from 1965 to 1973, led Bruce Jablonski, who came the closest to him, by 125 votes.

None of the candidates received a mandate from the majority of the residents of the village.

Toft received 513, less than one third of the 1,563 votes cast; Jablonski nosed out incumbent Mike Haley with 388 votes to Haley's 373.

Bob Wilton, another former mayor, ran in fourth position with 277, Phil Burke had eight votes and Henry Gillman four.

Toft, by far no newcomer to the Antioch political scene, has run in the last five mayoral elections winning three times and bowing to Wilton and Haley in two.

Even Jimmy the Greek might say that three out of five "ain't bad."

Despite several local issues that may have contributed to Haley's downfall and the resurrection of Toft, it is evident that one of the major contributing factor is that the An-

Two old, two new village trustees elected

The voters of Antioch decided to keep two of their old village board members and give two newcomers a chance, when they re-elected Vern Barnstable and Ron Cunningham to their four year terms as trustees, as well as Rod White, and choose Claudette Skvarce of "No full-time mayor" and tax cut fame over incumbent Mabel Lou Weber, for the open two-year term.

Cunningham pulled the most votes for trustee, receiving 833, Barnstable, 731, White, 727 and Skvarce, 796.

School hit Bombing at Grass Lake

Although Grass Lake School's Superintendent Richard Hogan and the maintenance man didn't notice the window that was broken in the principal's office, on Friday, April 10, when they arrived at school, the math teacher, Carl Hosteller did.

According to Lake County Sheriff's Fire Investigator Detective George Martin, "We believe that a pipe bomb of some sort was thrown through the window of principal Raymond Liss's office, early Friday morning."

The bomb evidently landed on the floor and exploded, sending shrapnel splintering throughout the office and embedding some of it into the wood of the office.

Some superficial damage, including a eight foot burn in the rug, caused by a fire started by the explosion, and a hole in the ceiling, is included in the reported damages, estimated at $500.

Members of the Lake County Arson Task Force, Martin and Detective Jerry Pankouskaus were at the scene and Pankouskaus is continuing the investigation.

Superintendent Liss says that they have no clues to any school trouble that might have brought the bombing on.

"We are leaving that up to the authorities," Liss said, stating that the bombing caused no school interruption on Friday.

Township race as predicted

The two local races that were comparatively quiet, because the candidates in both were unchallenged, were the race for the offices open on the Antioch Township Board and those on the board of the Antioch Township Library.

Incumbent Supervisor Jim Fields and the rest of the candidates on the slate of the People's Independent Party, received a big vote of confidence from the township's voters: Fields, 2,092; Highway Commissioner Blaine Ring, 1,985, Assessor Bud Holtz, 1,851; Clerk Richard Harland, 1,728; Trustee Irv Carey, 1,774; Trustee David Heath, 1,748; Trustee Rudolph Eckert, 1,731 and Trustee Homer Laplant, 1,609.

The two referendums to lower tax rate ceilings of the township road and bridge fund and the township fund, by 25 percent, passed.

The road and bridge fund tax rate lowering passed by more than a two to one vote, 1,438 to 674, and the one on the township fund almost got a three to one vote, passing 1,480 to 599.

Six of the candidates for the seven open posts on the board of the Antioch Township Library were returned to their seats; Ruth Jedele, 1,095; Geraldine C. Olson, 1,043; Carl Scheske, 1,000; Joseph Titus, 967; Melville Knirsch, 953 and Curtiss Denny, 926.

Newcomer Phyllis Ann Kakacek received the most votes for the library board, 1,255.

Scholarships available

Up to $3,500 in various scholarship awards will soon be awarded to seniors at Antioch Community High School who are planning further education next year.

At least seven local organizations are offering awards ranging in value from $50 to $500.

The organizations involved include the Antioch PTC, Homemaker's Club, Antioch Rotary Club and the Phi Theta Delta sorority and are augmented by individuals offering memorial awards.

Most of these organizations have been offering financial assistance to students for many years; the Antioch Rotary Club and the Phi Theta Delta sorority are newcomers to the program this year.

Graduating seniors who would like to be considered for any of the local scholarships must complete an application. Applications are available in the Antioch Community High School Guidance Office and must be returned by May 1.

Awardees will be announced and recognized at Antioch Community High School's Annual Honors Day which will be held in the high school auditorium on Thursday, May 21.

VOTE THANKS

Editor:
To the Citizens of the Village of Antioch:

The members of the Antioch Volunteer Fire Dept. wish to thank you for your vote of confidence in last Tuesday's election. The vote will allow us to maintain the existing high degree of service and to improve it when and where necessary.

We are looking forward to assisting you in any way within our area of responsibility.

The Antioch
Volunteer Fire Dept.

ENOUGH IS ENOUGH

Editor:
At our recent annual Oakwood Knoll Property Assn. Dance, I was shocked and disgusted when I saw C.A.P. cakes there and C.A.P. matches on every table.

This was supposed to be our dance not a C.A.P. party.

Everyone that came to the dance, expected all the candidates to be there. I really believe the people were glad to see them attend.

But, please in the future, let's all enjoy the candidates that will run for office in Antioch in our own special way, whether it be at our doorstep or at one of their functions.

When a function is a non-partisan one it should remain that way.

Thank you

Savings and loans celebrate 150th founding anniversary

The savings and loan business, which this year celebrates the 150th anniversary of its founding, still specializes in "what we started out doing — helping people own their homes," Laddie Korecek, executive vice-president of Antioch Savings and Loan, said.

"We began housing Americans in 1831 when the first savings and loan mortgage was made, Mark McKinney said, "and for the past 150 years the major aim of the savings and loan business has been to encourage thrift and home ownership."

Home buyers have come to rely on savings associations as the best source of mortgage money, "and we want to continue earning that public confidence," McKinney said.

"Our association will remain real estate oriented because there is a need for a system of strong, specialized home lending institutions in the communities we serve," he said.

The expanded financial services which savings associations are beginning to use "will offer our customers more conveniences but won't lessen our commitment to housing and home finance," McKinney said.

That there will be a greater need for mortgage funds is "virtually certain," he said, citing population demographics which show that a record 42 million Americans will reach the prime home buying age of 30 during the 1980s.

The need for money for housing in the early 1800s caused 37 men to create a home financing club in Frankford, Pa., now a part of Philadelphia.

The Oxford Provident Building Association, as the club was called, laid the foundation for what is now the $610 billion savings and loan business.

"When the first savings and loan 'club' was formed, commercial banks gave low priority to home mortgage lending," McKinney said. "Small savings deposits were not really encouraged," he added.

"The people who organized Oxford Provident in January 1831 were American financial pioneers," McKinney said.

Each member made regular savings deposits into the club's treasury until enough money was accumulated for each to purchase or build a home. Once everyone had a home, the association terminated.

"Today's savings associations still receive deposits from savers, then lend the funds to home buyers," McKinney said.

During the past 150 years, the savings and loan business has gone through some major changes, however, "which have benefited both savers and home buyers," he said.

Perhaps the biggest change, according to McKinney, occurred in the early 1970s with the introduction of a new type of savings account called the savings certificate.

By the end of the decade these higher-yielding accounts were earning money market interest rates and had become the most popular savings instrument.

To help savings associations pay higher interest rates to depositors, new and flexible home mortgages are being developed.

Renegotiable rate home loans, which have interest rates that can be adjusted up or down periodically, "will play a big part in helping savings associations meet the expected record demand for housing in the 1980s," McKinney said.

Verdict in accident given

Howard DeGraff, 24, of 340 Behm Dr., Grayslake, was found not guilty of reckless homicide by a Lake County Circuit Court jury.

The jury took 10 hours to decide the verdict after a three-day trial before Lake County Circuit Court Judge Harry D. Strouse Jr.

DeGraff had been charged with reckless homicide following a car accident last August 1 in which Christine Powell, 28, of Antioch was killed. The accident happened on Rte. 83 near Grand Ave. in Lake Villa.

DeGraff, who was driving home from a concert at Alpine Valley in East Troy, Wis., testified at the trial that he fell asleep at the wheel.

Prosecutors, pointing out that DeGraff crossed the center line on Rte. 83, contended that alcohol could have played a role in the crash. They said that 26 beer bottle caps were found on the floor of DeGraff's car after the accident; he was observed putting a cooler in his trunk after the crash; and that the floor was damp and reeked of liquor.

DeGraff testified that the bottle caps were part of his brother's collection.

DeGraff's attorney, Denis McKeown, maintained that DeGraff was not a reckless driver and that his actions "were normal" and that "he did not appear to be intoxicated" to his parents or the doctor that treated him following the accident.

CAROLE REPORTS

Political aftermath told

by CAROLE RISK

The Citizen Action Party and their supporters gathered on Tuesday, April 7, election eve at the Antioch Bowl's Tower Room to listen to the vote results on FM Radio.

There was no question that Ray Toft took a quick lead leaving Bruce Jablonski, Mike Haley and Bob Wilton to split the remainder of the votes.

Two of the newcomers to Antioch's political scene Claudette Skvarce and Ron White also took over leading the vote counting for trustee positions early.

The election results gave CAP a three out of six offices, returning Marilyn Sterbenz, Ron Cunningham and Barney Barnstable.

When the results were in Mike Haley gave a short speech acknowledging that "it's nice to win not so nice to lose", he also stated that everybody can count on seeing him around and that he is not going to drop out of sight.

After a hearty round of applause Mike announced he and his wife Sue were going to congratulate the new Mayor Ray Toft and his wife Joan at their victory party at the Antioch Moose.

There wasn't much excitement at the township level elections with all the board members being unopposed, there was a rumor that there was a write-in campaign afoot and that some people had been stopped before entering the polling places and were being told that they should participate in this write-in campaign.

"Not true", said Jim Fields, Antioch township supervisor, "this was simply a rumor," he further stated, that he personally checked it out.

Almost everybody involved with the elections was pleased with the new consolidated system of vote counting by the Lake County clerk, as opposed to the local counting of votes. The system went smoothly and efficiently with the results coming in very rapidly.

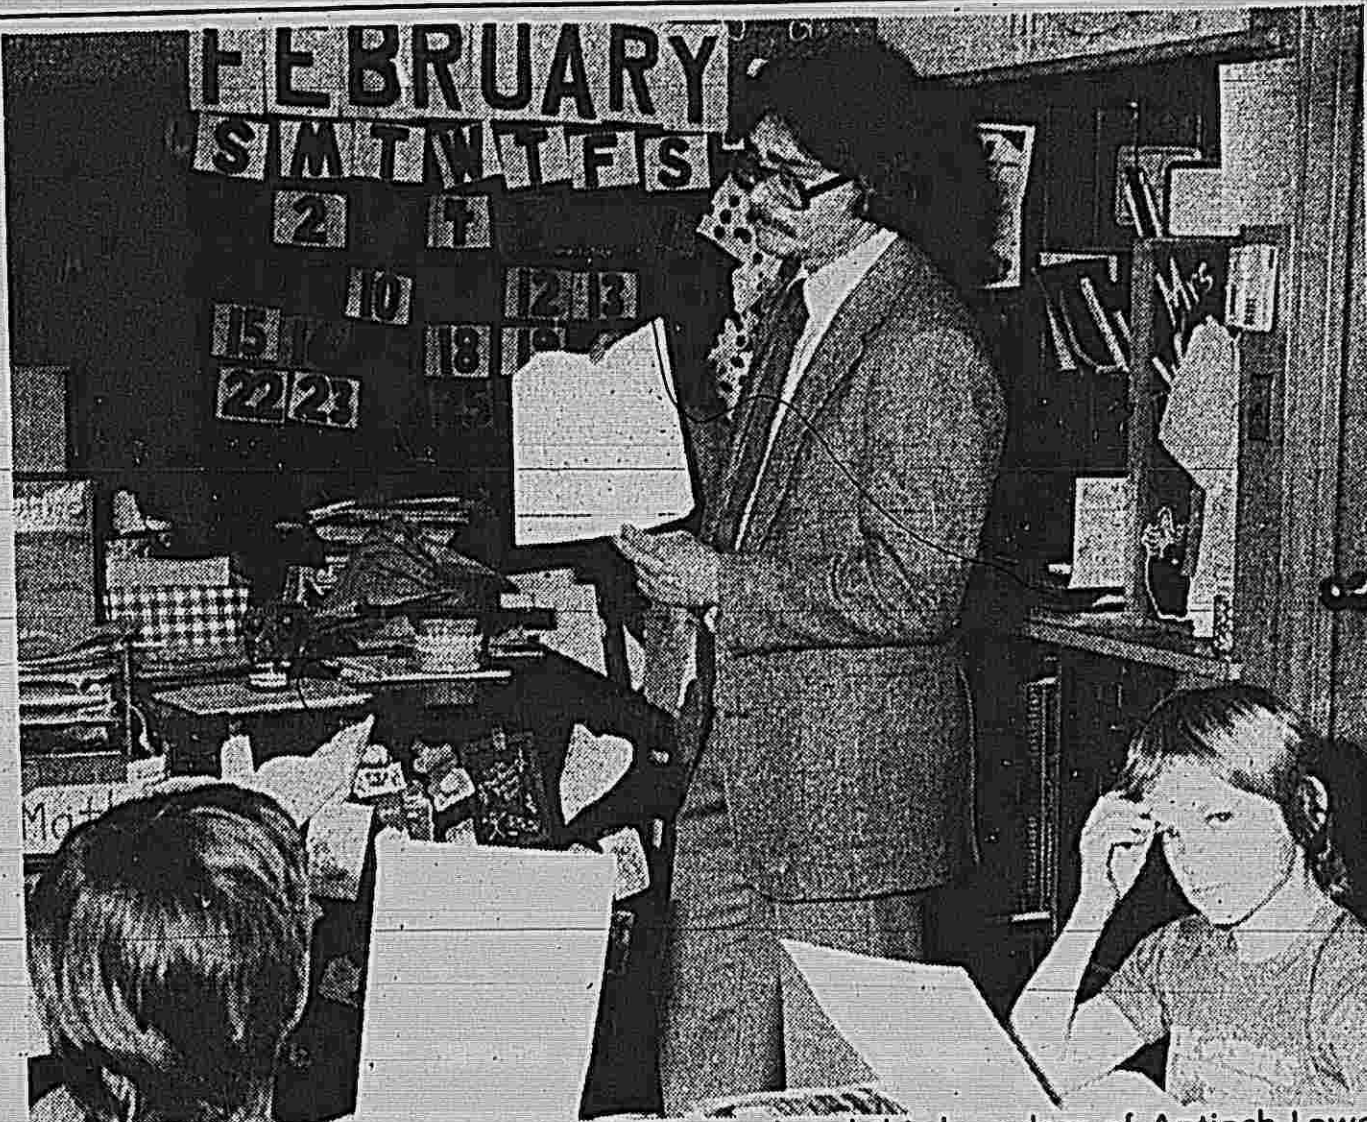

Predictably all the referendums to reduce taxes passed with the exception of the fire protection levy. Antioch area residents are definitely in a belt tightening mood.

The Antioch Township Board meets every second

Thursday of the month if you have any questions, complaints or suggestions — attend, the board will be glad to listen.

We have a rather unique service being offered to Lake County residents, anybody without a dentist or with their family dentist not available, who finds themselves with a emergency dental problem, can call St. Therese at 578-2470, they have a dentist on 24 hour call.

Many prizes await guests at Home Show

The lineup for the annual Lakeland Newspapers Homemaker '81 home show continues to grow as the final days of preparation approach.

Always one of the highlights of the year in Lake County, this year's Lakeland Newspapers Home Show will be held Thursday, April 23, at Round Lake High School.

In addition to the always popular cooking demonstration, a growing list of local merchants are planning home-oriented displays which will be of interest to visitors to the show.

And as always, guests at the homemakers show will be eligible to win many fine prizes donated by participating merchants and each visitor will take home a bag of special gifts for visiting the homemaker show.

As in past shows, one lucky homemaker will win a grand prize to top off the evening of exciting gift-giving. Of course you must be present to win.

This year, the grand prize will be a Sharp microwave oven, donated by Round Lake Ace Hardware.

"Visitors to this year's home show will want to make sure to arrive at the high school early enough to visit the many booths which will be set up by participating merchants," said Publisher William H. Schroeder.

"Our guests always find this a most interesting and rewarding part of the total home show," he added.

Among the displays being planned for the show are a Magic Chef microwave demonstration by Myko Appliance in Fox Lake, which is also providing stage appliances for the home show's home economist.

Home Economist Susan Huss, who has performed her culinary magic on stage across the country, will be demonstrating the latest cooking tips on stage at the high school to guests as part of the home show.

Other home show booths include a makeup and hair demonstration by Hair Performers of Round Lake Beach. Hair Performers will also be doing hair styles for models in the fashion show which is also an important part of the Lakeland Newspapers Homemaker '81 show.

Amway distributor Karen Shastal will be demonstrating her products to interested guests and Condell Memorial Hospital, Libertyville, will have trained hospital personnel giving blood pressure testing at three stations at their booth at the home show.

Knollwood Courts in Ingleside will provide showgoers with an interesting look at aerobic exercise as well as a male weight lifting demonstration. A scale will also be provided for visitors to weigh themselves.

Country Companies Insurance will have agents on hand to answer questions on the many different types of insurance offered by one of the most popular agencies in Lake County. Sharing the booth will be the Lake County Farm Bureau which will be giving out information on agriculture and farming and a demonstration of soybean cooking.

"The Round Lake location offers an excellent location in central Lake County and fine facilities not only for display space and the cooking show, but for parking and access from anywhere in Lake County," said Schroeder.

Admission to the show is free and doors open at 6 p.m.

ALCOHOL WORKSHOP

Abbott Laboratories is underwriting an alcohol and drug education workshop for elementary and high school teachers in Lake County on April 23 and 24. defeated mayoral candidate Mike Haley on the Citizen's Action Party ticket went under with 607 votes.

Amundsen was probably the board member who was most vociferously in favor of at least three of the most hotly contested issues of this year's political race, the $28,000 and $11,000 mayoral salaries and the use of industrial revenue bonds to bring in a new retail complex north of the village.

The other two independent candidates running for trustee made a good showing for their first political time around, Melody Fahrner receiving 667 votes for the four year term and William Georgeson copping 441 votes, also for the four year term.

An interesting testation to the split vote caused by the record number of mayoral candidates in this year's race can be seen in the fact that all the trustee candidates except Georgeson received more votes than the mayoral winner, Ray Toft and the losing Georgeson garnered more votes than each of the five remaining candidates for mayor.

Going right along with the voters "cut spending" mandate of Toft, was the voters' approval of the two referenda to cut the tax rate ceilings of the village street and bridge fund and the general corporate fund by 25 percent.

The vote to lower these ceilings passed by a more than two to one vote.

But the referendum recommending a 25 percent cut in the fire protection fund was defeated, 729 to 620, giving "a vote of confidence" to the Antioch Fire Dept., according to Fire Chief Tod Mapletorpe.

But the champion village vote getter is still incumbent Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz, who seems to win no matter which party she runs with or against. Sterbenz pulled 955 votes to challenger Chuck Mazzio's 492.

Two elections ago Sterbenz ran on Toft's ticket and was the only one on that slate elected. Last election she ran as an independent and this year she balanced out the election results, making it three CAP candidates elected to three independent ones.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Sage statement heard from a long time Antioch resident after April 7's election results were made known, "It seems that despite all the gossip as to who runs the town, the people of Antioch still say what they think."

Others have been heard to say that it would be hard to tell that Marilyn Sterbenz was a winner if one were to judge by her reactions.

Good show—on April 5, George Palaske, former house mover, took first place in the Wellington Country Club's golf tournament held in West Palm Beach, Fla.

Congrats to the only two Antioch students to find themselves on the B Honor Roll, at Carmel High School, Jennifer Lorang and Michelle Moser.

Florance Babusek was telling me about the lovely trip that the Antioch Womens Club made to view some of our neighboring sights in Wisconsin.

Too bad that the wind and the rain last Wednesday, put a little damper on the outing.

More "brainy" congratulations to freshman Kathryn Odsen, who has been named to the Dean's Honor List for the winter quarter at Augustana College, Rock Island.

Seems a lot of people took objection to the interjection of CAP paraphanelia at the recent Oakwood Knolls Dance, even to smearing the frosting that spelled CAP on some of the cakes.

Bill Brook tells me that the Annual Northeastern Illinois Ducks Unlimited Prime Rib Dinner is slated for 7:30. Wednesday, April 29, at the Antioch Auction Center.

There are only 450 tickets available, so members are urged to make their reservations early with Bert Metz, ticket chairman.

Trust is a word frequently associated with the State Bank of Antioch, but now it can be done so literally, since they have just been granted Trust Powers.

What is as beautiful as the spring days, as romantic as a moon's rays, gay as a party or sad as a child's tears, or as useless as a political sign for the next four years?

Marines seek dolls for Toys For Tots

The U. S. Marine Corps Reserve Center, Waukegan, has begun planning for the 1981 Toys for Tots Campaign and is asking for help.

"For a number of years we have had some ladies who voluntarily repaired and redressed dolls during the year. These dolls were then distributed along with toys collected during the annual Toys for Tots Campaign to the needy children of Lake and McHenry Counties," said Capt. D.R. Dame.

Historically, we have collected dolls in any condition during the campaign and those not suitable for distribution were given to our volunteers for possible repair and redress. We did not get as many old dolls during the 1980 campaign as we had hoped and this is why we are asking for help."

"We would like for you to donate any old dolls (in any condition) that your family does not want. We can provide containers to collect the dolls and we will pick them up. I want to emphasize that we want only old dolls; we do not want any one to buy doll and give them to us," said Capt. Dame.

Questions should be directed to Dave or HMC Sturtevant, Toys for Tots chairman, at 623-7447 or 244-5517.

Moonlight Madness goes west this year

BY GLORIA DAVIS

The members of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry have something in common with Antioch's new mayor, Ray Toft, who is a charter member of that organization, since one of the most important orders of business that the members intend to speak to the new mayor about is making Park Ave. to Depot St. a through thoroughfare, to relieve the traffic flow congestion in the center of town.

Toft has stated that this very project will be one of his first priorities.

At a meeting of the Retail Committee of the Chamber, held on April 10, Bill Patterson reiterated the discussions held at many of the Chamber's previous meetings, about the need for increased parking, especially behind the east side of Main St.

Laddie Korecek suggested that a committee be formed to get ideas on parking for the central business district.

More landscaping of the downtown area and the need for more street cleaning was also suggested.

The drive to increase local shopping was again brought up, with suggestions made that not only will regular ads, using the theme "Shop In Antioch," be run, but that tags saying things like "Bought in Antioch" and "Shop in Antioch," be distributed to the merchants to attached to their merchandise.

The failure of last year's Moonlight Madness sale brought forth ideas to change the event's image.

A western motif seemed to gain the Chamber members' favor, as they came up with ideas like a western dress contest to replace the traditional pajama contest, square dancing entertainment, a parade, western bands and a sharp shooting booth to go along with the cowboy theme.

The consensus was that work must start early on the event if it is to be a success.

Toft returns

tiotch voter went the way of the trend all over the country, one of dissatisfaction with those in office because "times are bad."

When this happens a lot of changes are inevitable, as witness the results of the November elections.

Toft, who claims that he felt that he was going to win awhile before April 7, says "It really feels great. But I really felt that I couldn't lose if everyone that told me they were going to vote for me, did."

Toft does admit though that his winning took a lot of hard work, done by himself, his wife and many friends and supporters.

"This is the first time that I went door to door campaigning," he says, while noting that he had probably talked to 50 percent of the villagers by the time that April 7 rolled around.

Although the village ordinance states that the mayor shall be sworn into office at the first regular board meeting following election day, Toft has asked that he not take office until May 4.

Toft has chosen to forgoe taking office on April 20, since April 30 is the end of the village's fiscal year and he prefers that Haley finish the entire fiscal year out.

"Sure there are changes to be made, but I don't want to make them until I have discussed it with the new board," Toft says.

"What I will probably do is immediately appoint those that presently hold municipal jobs to their same job for 30 days and make any official appointment changes in June," he continues.

Improvement of traffic flow and the storm sewer situation in Oakwood Knolls will receive first priority on the Toft action agenda.

He claims he will try to take immediate action on making a north-south through street connection from Park Ave to Depot St., thus rerouting some of the busy Main St. traffic.

As far as the well known need for the storm sewers in Oakwood Knolls, Toft says that the village had already gotten confirmation of a block grant from Lake County, but that will barely cover one third of the final costs, so more funding or monies will have to gotten if the storm sewer project is to be completed.

About his promise to return $7,000 out of the newly established mayoral salary of $11,000 per year, Toft says he will try to give it directly back, because he would like to see it in the general fund, but if for some reason that is not feasible, he will donate it to some of the village's charitable organizations.

For the last eight years Antioch has been used to having a mayor with a business right in town, in case he was needed at any time.

Toft's current business interests include the ownership in the Wlnot Speedway and the Lake Geneva Raceway.

"These could take up some of my weekend time," but I have arranged it so that I will be available anytime that I am needed", he continued.

Toft, who funded his own campaign himself, with just a few small contributions from close friends, reports that he most probably spent twice as much on this campaign as he has in any of the other two.

QUALITY WEEK

The week of April 19-25, 1981, has been designated as Quality Week in Lake County. At the next regular A.S.Q.C. meeting to be held on Thursday, April 23, there will be a special presentation of reliability and quality books to the College of Lake County to commemorate this event.

Sequoit mentor seeking batting fireworks, wins

Antioch's varsity baseball team is looking at a tough week ahead, after a rocky road which has left them with a 2-4 record in early going.

"The last couple of games, we just haven't been hitting," admitted coach Tom Baba, following a one-hit loss to Zion and an 8-1 trouncing by Wilmet.

"We've been swinging the bats well, but we've gone up against some good pitching," Baba noted. "Our pitching is still alright, but I'm kind of concerned about our hitting."

Antioch's diamond challenges were not scheduled to let up this week as the Sequoits hosted their first conference opponent in Wauconda on Monday and non-conference foe Rockford Harlem on Tuesday before traveling to Stevenson Wednesday and Waukegan West for a doubleheader on Saturday.

Kicking off last week's action, the Sequoits, behind the pitching and hitting of Carl Amundsen, defeated Mundelein, 10-3.

Amundsen went all the way on the mound and added a single and a grand slam homerun for five RBI's in earning the win. Dino Sisto added two RBI's. The game was never close as Antioch scored all of its runs in the first three innings.

Thursday, Zion's Joe Kane fired a one hitter at Antioch and logged an RBI triple and a three-run homerun to help his own cause as Zion blanked the Sequoits 6-0. Antioch's only hit was Sisto's single in the top of the seventh.

Things didn't get much better Friday when the Sequoits traveled over the state line to challenge Wilmet High School, which Baba admitted "has got themselves a real good ball club as usual."

Antioch's only run against Wilmet came in the second inning when Sisto singled and Dean Haviland doubled him home. Wilmet won 8-1. Mark Pomazak added a single in the next frame, but the Sequoits were blanked the remainder of the way.

In other early season action, the Sequoits opened the season at McHenry, winning one game and losing three in a round robin tournament.

The Sequoits lost game one to Elgin, 5-2. John Haling was the leading hitter for Antioch as he went two for two. Mark Pomazak was one for three with one RBI.

In the second game of the tourney, Antioch lost to Elgin 8-7. With the game tied 6-6 in the top of the seventh, the Sequoits took the lead on a single by Mike Schueman, driving home Pomazak.

Larkin added two runs in the bottom of the inning to win the game. Sisto had two hits, a sacrifice and a walk and three RBI's.

The Sequoits victory in the tournament came over host McHenry by a 12-1 rout as the Sequoits hit the cover off the ball. Tim Koesser was the winning pitcher, striking out six and walking five in the five inning game.

Haling added a two-run scoring single in the second inning with Pomazak adding a two RBI single in the third. Carl Amundsen had two singles and two RBI's with Chuck Payne adding a single and one RBI. Steve Sheedlo had a single and two RBI's.

Koesser helped his own cause with a single and a flier's choice for two runs batted in.

Antioch accepts challenge

Volunteers for the Lake County Unit of the American Cancer Society were guests of Lake Forest Hospital at a March kickoff luncheon for the 1981 April Residential Crusade, when Unit Income Development Chairman, David H. Wagner of Lee Fry and Associates, announced a $105,000 goal for the Lake County Unit of the Cancer Society.

Antioch Chairman of the residential crusade, Mrs. William Brook, accepted a community goal of $3,000 on behalf of 152 area volunteers for the American Cancer Society. Mrs. Herbert Gould, of Lincolnshire, Lake County

Unit chairman for the April door-to-door educational and fund-raising campaign, urged the crusade leadership to remind volunteers of the educational aspect of the current crusade.

Dr. Burton Miller, Deerfield, who is a chairman of the professional education committee for the unit, discussed the new American Cancer Society guidelines for cancer checkups, which will be distributed together with a pamphlet, listing services afforded to cancer patients without cost. Miller emphasized the importance of public understanding that checkups for cancer for individuals without symptoms are essential to safeguarding health, and cautioned, "Individuals should apply their doctor's advice, their own risk factors, and their total health history and goals as well as budget as they follow the guidelines for cancer checkups."

A Lincolnshire volunteer for the Unit's Public Education Committee, Mrs. Michael Rodbro, was the luncheon keynote speaker. Mrs. Rodbro emphasized the importance of individual responsibility for early detection as she talked of her own experience as a cancer patient.

ACHS frosh win

The Antioch High School freshman baseball team claimed its second victory in as many outings, Thursday, with an impressive 13-2 win over visiting Zion-Benton.

The Sequoits again showed a balanced attack with eight players crossing the plate. Craig Prather and John Mahar each knocked in four runs, while Dan Berkeil added another one in the third inning.

The Sequoits also failed to surrender an earned run for the second straight game.

Righthander John Humphreys got the win, giving up only four hits and striking out a pair.

Reliever Tony Neimic came in and struck out the side in the fifth, to end the frame when the 10-run rule was invoked.

50 YEARS AGO: APRIL 16, 1931

Merrill Cunningham is the owner of a new Ford purchased Tuesday from the Whitmore Chevrolet company.

The Sooline railroad has announced excursion rates for two days, April 24 and 25, when fares will be sold to all points between Chicago and Minneapolis for approximately 1 cent per mile. Ticket stubs for return are good until May 2.

Sensation seekers assembled at the Hickory Corners Methodist Church Sunday, anticipating forcible action to overcome the refusal of Clarence Spiering and his family, who have occupied the church since their home was burned two months ago, to allow services to be held there, were disappointed when the trustees decided to call off the services. Reporters, photographers and news reel camera men clustered at the church and it was necessary for Sheriff Lester Tiffany to direct traffic. Spiering verified the large "mumps" sign tacked on the front door by explaining that his only child, Dorothy Ann, had been afflicted with that disease. It is understood that legal action will be started this week to compel Spiering and his family to vacate their stronghold.

Score another for Clarence Spiering. Not only does he get his name in all the newspaper headlines in the country through the unusual business of making his home in the Hickory Corners Methodist Church without asking anyone's permission, but now he's gone and got into the "pitcher". Proof of it is offered in the news reel that will be shown at the Kenosha theatre.

Inquest into the death of Harry W. Wehrenberg who was found shot in his car at Lake Villa Sunday night, is being delayed pending investigation. Latest reports indicate that he shot himself, in despair over an illicit love affair. At first it was believed that Wehrenberg was shot by members of a gang.

30 YEARS AGO: APRIL 12, 1951

A little detective work is in progress which is expected to lead to the identification of persons who recently brought garbage into Antioch and dumped it on the city street. Some of the garbage was dumped on Orchard St., after the village had completed the spring cleaning of the area.

Rockney, a seventh grade student at Lake Villa School, received an Outstanding Rating for his project, "The Effects of G Force on Mice", when it was entered in the Science Fair. An outstanding rating was also awarded at the Regional Science Fair at Wheeling. It entitles Rockney to go into competition at the State Science Fair at Champaign May 7 and 8.

Moose sponsors blood drive

On Easter Sunday, April 19, between the hours of noon and 5 p.m., at the Antioch Moose Hall, 884 Main St., Antioch, the Sequoit Masonic Lodge 827 and the Loyal Order of the Moose 525, jointly as a civic service, are sponsoring a public blood drive.

By donating one pint of blood, you and each member of your entire family, if needed, are covered for an unlimited supply of blood.

If you, yourself, cannot give blood, anybody can give for you in your name and thus you and your family are covered.

Realize that hospitals charge from $75 to ??? for one pint of blood.

Consider what an inexpensive insurance you can possess. There are many blood service organizations, but, many of these organizations cover you only if you are hospitalized in an Illinois Hospital. This blood service organization covers you nationwide including Canada and Mexico.

The lodge doors will be opened at 9 a.m. A hearty breakfast (at a minimum cost) will be served until noon.

Come and celebrate Easter with the Moose. Have your blood pressure checked, your temperature taken, give a pint of blood which protects you and your entire family. Have a healthy and happy Easter!
